Beginning Tai Chi / Tai Chi / Tai Chi II: Tai Chi is a mind-body practice with roots in ancient China. It is designed to cultivate the body's vital energy (known as "chi") and improve the flow of this energy through the body. Through movement, meditation and breath, participants learn to enhance and increase this energy and direct its flow. Gentle, graceful, repeated movements, sometimes known as "moving meditations," are the crux of this class.

Slow Vinyasa Flow: This is an intermediate level of yoga characterized by a continuous, progressive sequence of poses linked together by the breath, paced slowly enough to focus on correct alignment and form. Integrating the principles of Iyengar Yoga (alignment) with Ashtanga Yoga (dynamic) you will be sure to build strength, fluidity and focus while improving cardiovascular conditioning. Prior yoga experience is recommended.

Yin Yoga (all levels): Bring balance to your workout through deep stretching to gain muscle flexibility and mobility in the joints. Poses will be held for extended periods of time while relaxing and allowing gravity to release the connective tissue resulting in greater muscle movement and range of motion in the joints.

Meditation in Motion: Flow through yoga sequences synchronizing the breath with each movement.
